

MOVE FOR SPLENDID NEW HOSPITAL

Is Set On Foot At Meeting Saturday When P. A. C. Board Tells of Its Dire Need

Plans of the board of managers of the P. A. C. Infirmary to petition the Fiscal Court for $5,000 to build needed additions to this splendid institution, met with suggestions from a number of citizens Saturday that no halfway measures be taken but that plans be set on foot for the erection of a magnificent new building, modern and complete in every way.

So strong did the insistence come that it was decided to name a committee with representatives from all churches, organizations and fraternal bodies and hold a mass meeting at the First Christian church Sunday night, March 26th, at which the whole proposition will be threshed out. Dr. R. L. Telford was named as chairman of the committee.

The opinion was expressed that Madison county people are so thoroughly familiar with the fine, unselfish and noble work that the P. A. C. Infirmary does that all would be more than willing to have a part in the building of an institution that the whole county would be proud of and which would answer all needs for many years to come.

MRS. EVA WEBB DENNY GOES TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Eva Webb Denny died at her home near Bybee on March 14, her many friends regret to hear. A friend sends in the following tribute:

Eva Webb Denny was born May 4, 1901; was married to Thomas Denny in May 1918, to which union was born one son, Stanley. Eva was taken ill in July, 1920, and was in poor health through the rest of the year. She returned to her parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. John Webb, of Bybee, where she was tenderly cared for by her husband, parents, brothers and sisters and other loved ones. She grew worse, tuberculosis developed and death resulted March 14, 1922. She joined the Methodist church about three weeks ago and was sprinkled, being too weak to be baptized. Eva spoke with her last words, telling her friends not to mourn for her, as Jesus was taking her to heaven and she was ready to go. She was a loving sister, a good wife and a devoted mother. She will be missed in the home and the community where she lived. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, Thomas Denny and son Stanley, father, mother, several brothers and sisters and a host of friends. May the God of mercy console and comfort their sad hearts and give to them the sweet hope of a glorious meeting beyond this vale of tears. The body was laid to rest in the family burying ground, known as the Dozier cemetery.—Friend.

FARM LAND VALUES REDUCED IN STATE

Agricultural Report Shows They Are Third Less Now Than In 1920—Crop Report

The March crop report issued by the U. S. Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates in cooperation with State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna shows that the average values of improved farm lands in Kentucky have fallen to about two thirds what they were March 1, 1920, and that on March 1, 1922, Kentucky farmers held about 83 per cent of their previous 5-year average amount of corn, 76 per cent of their 5-year average amount of wheat, and 72 per cent of their 5-year average of oats. The carry-over of corn and oats March 1, 1921, from the 1920 crop was large, but these crops in Kentucky in 1921 were much smaller than the 1920 crop.

The average amount of corn on Kentucky farms March 1, 1917 to March 1, 1921, inclusive, has been about 40,647,000 bushels, and of oats about 2,001,000 bus. Of last year's Kentucky corn crop 41 per cent (or 35,082,000 bus.) still was held by farmers March 1, 1922, compared to 50 per cent of the 1920 crop (or 50,844,000 bus.) on farms March 1, 1921. About 12 per cent of Kentucky's 1921 wheat crop (or 761,000 bus.) was held on farms March 1, 1922, compared to 16 per cent of the 1920 crop (or 900,000 bus.) on farms March 1, 1921. Of the 1921 oat crop farmers held 26 per cent (or 1,447,000 bus.) March 1, 1922, compared to 36 per cent of the 1920 crop (or about 2,369,000 bus.) held on farms March 1, 1921. Kentucky farmers' holdings of barley (almost all of which is grown in a few Blue Grass counties) was about the same (14,000 bus.) March 1, 1922 and March 1, 1921, about 10 per cent of the previous year's crop being held on farms March 1, both years.

Average land values, according to reports from farmers and others throughout Kentucky, have fallen from $85 per acre average for improved farms March 1, 1920, to $57 average March 1, 1922, and from $62 average for unimproved farm lands March 1, 1920, to $42 average March 1, 1922. The average value per acre reported this spring for poor plow land is $28 compared to $42 two years ago; good plow land $67 compared to $95 two years ago; and the average of all grades of plow land $47 compared to $70 March 1, 1920. As there have been comparatively few sales during the last several months these estimated values are based on previous sales and on prices at which farmers now are holding, as well as on recent sales, this year's valuations being, therefore, largely estimated.

REAL ATHLETIC CLUB WANTED HERE

Suggestion That Business Men Get Behind Young Men and Help 'Em Develop

Richmond, Ky., Mar. 18.

Dear Editor:—As most all cities the size of Richmond have a Y. M. C. A. or athletic club and Richmond has many young men who would make a good wrestler or boxer with some training. Many of these young men could not afford to join an athletic club, where it costs $9 or $10 to join, that is the reason all clubs started here soon fall through.

Richmond has several good wrestlers. Port and Baxter have made a name for themselves at carnivals.

A Winchester man, Bob Taylor, claims the light weight wrestling championship of Kentucky and also Ohio. One or two of our boys have tried him but lost from each lack of constant and proper training.

With some training several young men I know would make expert wrestlers. I think the business men and boosters and sports-loving men of Richmond should help out them and others who could make good.

A good plan is to let some of these men get together; divide the city in as many parts as is thought necessary, select a manager for each district, let the manager find a empty room, put down a mat, call on the young men in his district; watch them come. Match these boys, let them wrestle or box. After a few weeks' training of two or three nights a week, get a match for his best boys with the team of some other district of the town.

After a month or two select a certain number of the best from the town and form a main team.

And as the boys of the district teams grow better, match them with the main team. Let the manager match the boys of the main team with wrestlers and boxers of other towns.

I know the best wrestlers and boxers in Richmond would be glad to show the team all they know and help them get started. After they get started the wrestlers will pick up lots themselves, and the boxers will do the same.

Please, Mr. Editor, print this letter and let all who would like to help Richmond's young men in this line get together. Then let the wrestlers and boxers of old Richmond show the whole state or United States what we can do. I am a wrestler myself and I would like to train and help out others and we all together just like Ed (Strangler) Lewis is going to show Dempsey what he can do. A SUBSCRIBER.

SHERIFF IN OHIO AFTER TWO MEN

Who Are Charged By Madison Farmer With Stealing 20 Chickens Early In Week

Sheriff Elmer Deatherage went to Hamilton, O., Friday, to bring back Robert Edison and Tom Collins, two young men of the East End of town, for whom warrants charging chicken stealing were sworn out by John Baldwin, well known farmer on Tate's Creek pike.

Mr. Baldwin heard a noise among his fowls one night early in the week, and listened out to investigate. He yelled to some one in the house to bring his gun, and ran on to the roadway where he found Edison and Collins in a car. They had no chickens with them, however, so he let them go. Soon others members of the family came up with Mr. Baldwin's gun and in coming from the house they ran across a sack containing 20 hens, which had evidently been hastily thrown aside and had been unnoticed by Mr. Baldwin in the darkness.

Warrants charging the two young men with theft of his poultry were immediately sworn out by Mr. Baldwin but officers found when they went after them that they had gone to Hamilton, O. They are said to have driven the car through. It is said that Ohio is their former home.

Officers at the Ohio city arrested them on information from here and Sheriff Deatherage went after them. They agreed to return here to face trial without compelling the officers to obtain requisition papers.

BIG FELLOWS IN BOOZE BANDITRY CONVICTED

Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 18—"This is a flagrant case of breaking of the prohibition law, and too many little fellows have been caught, while the big fellows escape," United States District Judge A. M. J. Cochran declared in court here Friday in sentencing M. F. Huth, T. J. Finn and W. B. Carye to serve two years in the Atlanta penitentiary for illegally removing whisky from the Belle of Anderson distillery near Lawrenceburg last November. C. B. Hawkins and E. F. Sweeney, who also were found guilty by the judge, each was fined $500. Huth is said to be the owner of the distillery and to have been the leader of the gang. A large quantity of whisky and nearly $13,000 in cash were found when the raid was made.

When attorneys for the three protested after the judge had said he would require $10,000 bond, instead of the $5,000 bond under which they were released previously, the judge said "these men made a lot of money bootlegging that whisky about the country. If they had not I might lower the bail." He finally consented to $7,500 for each man.
